FIELD HOCKEY

A Salute To Maryland Field Hockey

1992 Atlantic Coast Conference Champions

1991 NCAA Final Four Participants

Coming at you — Maryland Field Hockey 1993

The combination of experienced defense and quick offense will generate the success of the 1993 Maryland field hockey team.

The Terrapins, reigning Atlantic Coast Conference champions, welcome returning starters to several key positions and a wealth of young talent that make this one of the deepest teams in recent memory.

The constant of the Maryland defense is junior goalkeeper Irene Horvat. Horvat's strong leadership on the field and her impressive clearing ability makes her one of the Terrapin's greatest assets. With 21 solo shutouts in the past two seasons, she has earned the respect of the nation's top players and teams. She equals her athletic success in the classroom as she maintains a 3.7 GPA in business.

In the backfield sophomore Elissa Beckman and graduate student Sabrina Salam add experience and patience to the defense. Beckman, a 1992 Second Team Mid-Atlantic Regional All-America, utilizes her great speed to cease opponent's scoring opportunities. Salam, a 1992 Second Team All-America, is on track to surpass the Maryland career assist record of 42 held by former

All-America Kim Turner (1985-88). Both are expected to be utilized on the offensive penalty corner.

At sweeper, junior Laura Harmon contributes to the defense and the offense. Her penalty corner shot is one of the hardest in college field hockey. A strong offensive weapon, Harmon scored four goals and added two assists in 1992.

Sophomore Katie Kauffman will also contribute to the Terrapin defense. After a successful freshman year and strong spring practice, her talents are expected to flourish. Kauffman returns as an integral part of the Terp defense and is Maryland's most tenacious defender.

Senior Amy Schubert, a 1992 Second Team All-America, will lead the midfield. With her quickness and athleticism she ranks as one of the top midfielders in the nation. A returning starter, she is one of the top players in the nation.

Along with Schubert in the midfield will be fellow senior Maureen Scott. An experienced leader, Scott is quick and has the ability to create scoring opportunities.

Senior Shannon Petrick will be the leader on the forward line. She is one of the fastest Terrapins and can throw it into sixth gear to break away from defenders. As a starter last season, she stepped up to her new responsibilities with six goals and two assists.

Senior Tara Everly, a returning varsity player, is a tenacious attacker who will have a very positive impact. Everly brings experience to the 1993 squad. She appeared in 18 games and scored two goals.

Sophomore Kristen Ketchum, a speedy forward, will also return to the Terrapins. She showcased her offensive abilities last season, is dangerous with the ball, and will be a threat to defenders.

The 1993 Terrapins will also see contributions from a group of young, talented recruits. Lori Vile, an All-State forward from Medford Lakes, NJ who set a new record for most points scored in a New Jersey high school career, comes to College Park to add to the scoring punch. Tricia Burdt, an exciting freshman from Maryland and Josephine Blauw, a recruit from the Netherlands, will also be ready to play and be part of the traveling squad.

Followers of the 1993 Maryland field hockey team will enjoy the same success by the Terrapins that they have grown to expect. Experienced players will combine with exciting young talent to produce another winning team for the field hockey faithful.

Coaching Staff

Margaret "Missy" Meharg

Head Coach

Missy Meharg has collected a number of accolades and accomplishments in her five years as Head Field Hockey coach at the University of Maryland.

During that time, she has coached her teams to five winning seasons. The Terps have travelled to the NCAA Tournament in four of those seasons, including the Final Four in 1991. Meharg also led the Terps to the 1992 Atlantic Coast Conference Championship.

Last season, Meharg received Mid-Atlantic Regional Coach of the Year honors for the third consecutive year. In 1991, Meharg was selected as the CFHCA Division I Coach of the Year.

Meharg's extensive playing career culminated in 1991 after seven years of international competition. She was a member of the U.S. team which competed in the 1991 Pan American Games and the Olympic Qualifying Tournament in New Zealand for the 1992 Olympic Games in Barcelona, Spain. Meharg was also the first alternate to the 1988 Olympic Team in Seoul, South Korea and competed in the 1986 World Championships.

Meharg began her coaching career at Maryland and was for three years the graduate assistant under Dr. Suzanne Tyler. She accepted the head coaching duties in 1988.

Meharg graduated from the University of Delaware in 1985 with a Bachelor of Science in physical education and received a Masters of Arts in sports psychology from the University of Maryland in 1989. A four-year letterwinner in both field hockey and lacrosse, Meharg earned All-America honors in both sports as a junior and senior.

When not busy with her coaching duties, Meharg actively explores new fields. Recently, she was the color commentator for the 1993 NCAA Women's Lacrosse and 1992 NCAA Field Hockey Championships. Meharg also was the color commentator for TCJ Productions in covering the Intercontinental Field Hockey Cup in Philadelphia in 1993.

Meharg is the Director for the Chesapeake Regional "Futures Program" which identifies and develops potential elite level players in the United States.

"I believe in self-accountability in the classroom and on the field. Our team goal is to be committed to hard work, while keeping it fun. Focus on the 'now,' and take advantage of every opportunity."

Andrea Wieland

Assistant Coach

Andrea Wieland, a current member of the United States National Team, begins her first year as an assistant coach with the Maryland program. She comes to Maryland following a stellar playing career at Iowa where she earned CFHCA All-America honors.

A member of the Big Ten All-Decade Team (1981-1991), Wieland will concentrate her efforts on Maryland's goalkeepers, defensive players and recruiting.

Wieland is considered to be one of the top goalkeepers in NCAA history. She culminated a superb career in 1992 as she earned first team All-America, Midwest Regional All-America and first team All-Big 10 Conference honors in leading Iowa to the national championship game. She recorded eight shutouts during the 1992 season and was credited with a season high 17 saves against Old Dominion in the national championship game.

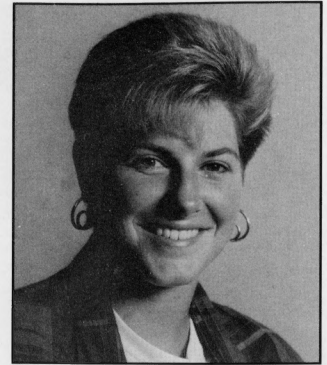

She was a member of the 1991 U.S. National Team that played in the Olympic Qualifying Tournament in Auckland, New Zealand. That same year, she played in the U.S. Olympic Festival in Los Angeles.

As a 1990 CFHCA All-America, Wieland was a Broderick Award and Babe Zeharis Award nominee that year. The Broderick Award is given to that player selected as the top field hockey player in the nation and the Zeharis Award is given to the top female athlete.

She is second on Iowa's all-time saves list with 472 and recorded 36 career shutouts. Three times she earned All-Conference Honors (Big Ten/Midwest Collegiate Field Hockey Conference) and twice she earned conference All-Academic honors. She was a team co-captain in 1990, 1991 and 1992.

Wieland earned her bachelor's degree in psychology. She is a native of Pennsylvania. She attended the Westtown School.

"My participation in athletics at the collegiate and international levels has taught me more about life skills than any other experience. The athletic arena provides the setting to have dreams, to have goals and go after them with commitment, discipline and a lot of hard work. Being good is not easy. The Maryland athletes know what it takes to succeed in academics and athletics. Together we'll discover what can happen when you give a little bit more."

Michele Brennan

Assistant Coach

Michele Brennan graduated from Penn State University in 1992 where she played field hockey from 1988 to 1991. Brennan and the Nittany Lions appeared in the Final Four in 1990 and 1991 and, in 1991, she was selected to the Final Four All-Tournament Team.

At Penn State, Brennan was an Academic All-America in 1991 (1st Team) and 1990 (2nd Team). She also holds the PSU career shutout record of 39.5.

Brennan was a National Team member in December of 1991 but never returned due to a broken leg. In 1992, she helped coach the Nittany Lions.

This year, Brennan started her Masters in Speech Pathology and Audiology at Maryland. She will help coach the goalkeepers.

"Maryland believes in determination, commitment, and teamwork in order to be the best. I am looking forward to being part of their winning tradition."

Jeremy Cook

Volunteer Assistant Coach

Jeremy Cook, a member of the U.S. Under-21 squad, is in his second year as volunteer assistant coach on the Maryland staff. Along with current Terp players Marlo Makela, Katie Balk and Tricia Burdt, Cook has honed his skills through the coaching talent of Steve Simpson.

Terpilot Andy Geiger, Sue Tyler

Andy Geiger

Athletic Director

Andy Geiger, who's tenure as Athletic Director at Stanford University elevated him to the top rank of athletic administrators, was named to direct the athletic programs at Maryland by College Park President William E. Kirwan on Sept. 7, 1990.

Since Geiger's first day on the job, he has elevated the image of Maryland athletics while providing structure and planning for the 1990s and beyond.

Of immediate impact was his being instrumental in establishing across the board equilibrium in the 23-sport program in the face of financial challenges.

While Geiger has been at Maryland, athletics have flourished. The women's lacrosse team won the 1992 NCAA Championship, the field hockey team advanced to the Final Four in 1992 and the women's basketball team was ranked No. 1 in the country for the first time ever. In 1992-93, Geiger oversaw the hiring of Mark Duffner as football coach, and the completion of a new athletic training facility at Byrd Stadium, renovation of lockerroom facilities for several varsity sports and the resurgence of the men's basketball program to the point where every ACC game last season was sold out.

Above all, Geiger is establishing management procedures to complexities of a large, Division I athletic program, procedures that are needed in a time of unparalleled scrutiny in college athletics.

He currently serves on two NCAA and several Atlantic Coast Conference committees. He is a member of the NCAA special committee to review financial conditions in intercollegiate athletics. He is also a member of the NCAA special events committee, serving on the post-season football sub-committee.

Maryland is Geiger's fourth athletic dictatorship. He was named the AD at Brown University in 1972, and moved to another Ivy League school, Pennsylvania, in 1975, overseeing at Penn the last Ivy program to reach the NCAA Final Four. At Stanford, Geiger oversaw an athletic juggernaut - amassing 27 NCAA titles in his 11 years at the helm.

Geiger is a 1961 graduate of Syracuse. He and his wife Eleanor, have two children, Phillip and Gregory.

Dr. Suzanne Tyler

Senior Associate Athletic Director

Dr. Suzanne Tyler is at the heart of Maryland athletics. Her 19-year association with the program has seen her serve the department in every fashion imaginable. From coach to administrator to confidant of student-athletes, Tyler envelopes herself in red and white.

When Maryland needed an interim athletic director in 1990 to direct its 23-sport intercollegiate athletic program, Tyler answered the call. She served in that capacity until the arrival of Andy Geiger.

Tyler's success has been extraordinary on both the athletic and academic levels. She is one of only a handful of coaches in history to win NCAA championships in two sports - lacrosse in 1981 and 1986 and field hockey in 1987. Tyler performed double duty for the department in 1990. While serving as the chief athletic department administrator, she led the Terps' women's lacrosse team to the national championship game. She was named lacrosse National Coach of the Year in 1984 and 1986.

Her career reaches into the academic realm, as well. She has earned honors in each stage of her academic career - as an undergraduate at Northeastern in 1969, in receiving her master's from Penn State in 1972 and her Ph.D. from Maryland in 1986.

Tyler and her husband, Dennis Casey, reside in Beltsville, Md. with the two-year-old son Andrew, and daughter, Alexis.

Dr. William E. Kirwan

President

Academic Support Unit

The commitment to academic achievement is at the forefront of the athletic department's responsibility to every student-athlete. Striving for excellence is not just something that University of Maryland student-athletes do on the field.

Toward the goal of a successful academic experience for each student-athlete, the athletic department created the Academic Support Unit

Academic Support offers a comprehensive program for personal and academic development that includes:

- Personal academic assessment.
- Academic advising and counseling.
- Supervised study.
- Learning and study skill programs.
- Group and individual tutoring.
- Computer training and usage.
- Career mentoring.
- Summer internships.

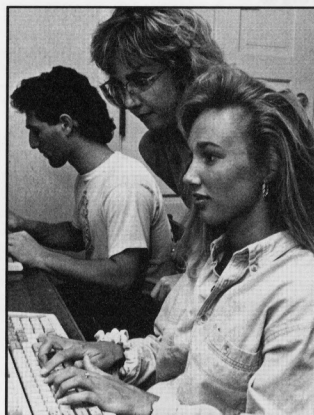

Dr. Javaune Adams-Gaston is the Director of Athletic Student Services. She is assisted in the ASU by Elizabeth Freidman, Eleanor Green and Don Pearman. Green works directly with the Terp field hockey team as its academic coordinator.

In addition to individual academic counseling, each member of the ASU serves the department in other capacities. The staff operates the ever-expanding computer room, where student-athletes gain hands-on experience with various hardware and software systems. The ASU also operates an extensive bookroom where student-athletes have at their disposal the majority of the text books they will need during their undergraduate years.

More than 100 tutors in all academic disciplines are organized by the ASU. Student-athletes can receive specialized one on one training in any class they desire.

The Academic Support Unit at the University of Maryland has a tremendously positive and important impact on each of the student-athletes who join the Terrapins' program.

Liz Freidman (standing)

Eleanor Green
Assistant Director
Academic Support Unit

"One of the most enjoyable elements of working with field hockey is their sincere commitment to academics, both on the part of the coaches, and most certainly, the students. This is a highly competitive Division I team that also manages to maintain a solid "B" team GPA."

- Eleanor Green

Strength and Conditioning

While the competitive field hockey season is limited to only four months out of each year, the Terps work year round with the department's strength and conditioning staff, applying the latest strength training innovations toward becoming the best conditioned athletes possible.

The Terps have three fully equipped weight rooms in which to work, each containing the latest in weight training equipment. The newest equipment is housed in a state-of-the-art weight room which neighbors the field hockey team's new lockerroom facilities.

The Terps' newest facility is completely outfitted with the best weight equipment that insures the field hockey team will be physically prepared each time it takes to the field.

With state-of-the-art equipment at its disposal, Maryland's field hockey team is aided in their strength work by two of the most innovative conditioning coaches in the country. Dave Ungerer and Dwight Galt work with the team in their strength and conditioning training.

Ungerer is in his second year as the football strength and conditioning coach at Maryland. In addition to his football duties, Ungerer works directly with the field hockey team.

Ungerer developed a special program for the field hockey players to increase their leg and back strength following his introduction to the sport last season.

Ungerer came to the University of Maryland as part of football coach Mark Duffner's staff. He joined the

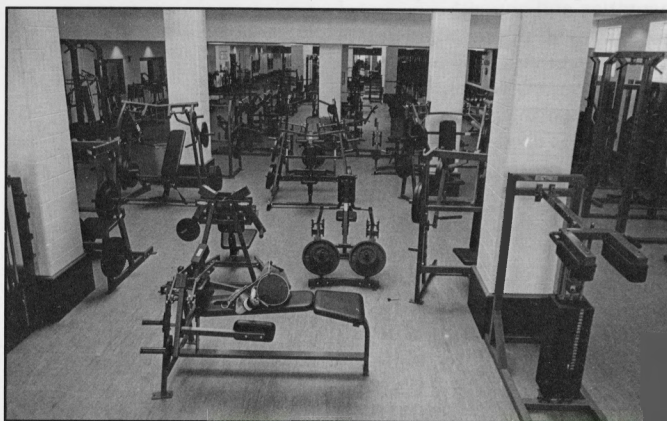

Dave Ungerer

Terps from Holy Cross, where in four years he was part of a staff that led the Crusaders to the winningest record in college football.

Ungerer received his B.S. degree in physical education from Southern Connecticut State in 1980 where he also played varsity football. He earned three varsity letters as a running back at SCSU. Ungerer was a running back and a linebacker at Edison (NJ) High School. As a senior, he rushed for more than 1,000 yards and earned all-Area honors.

He began his football coaching career as a graduate assistant at Rutgers University. At Rutgers, he worked with the overall defensive game plan. He moved to Northeastern University in 1985 where he was the defensive line coach. From 1986-87, he coached the defensive line and was the strength coach at Davidson College. While at Davidson, he was the professional scout liaison.

Ungerer, 36, is single.

Welcome to Maryland

Maryland is choosing quality

These are great days at the University of Maryland at College Park. The University, through an act of the state legislature, has been designated officially as the state's flagship campus with a mandate to become one of the nation's leading public universities. The effect of that mandate is for individuals from all corners of the university to aspire toward excellence, to think great thoughts, and to become immersed in an educational enterprise of the highest caliber. There is an unmistakable momentum for change and sense of heightened expectation at College Park—Maryland is choosing quality.

The faculty have enthusiastically endorsed a new general education program that began in the fall of 1990. It is a blueprint for comprehensive changes in the undergraduate experience at Maryland. The campus is reducing undergraduate enrollment, improving the ratio between faculty and students, raising admissions standards, revamping the University Honors Program, strengthening the advising system, supporting expanded undergraduate research and encouraging innovations in teaching.

We invite you to take a closer look at the University of Maryland, its extensive academic programs, faculty, research facilities, student activities and support services, and the resources and opportunities it offers. See for yourself the number of different ways in which Maryland is choosing quality. There has never been a better time to choose Maryland.

Choosing by the numbers

3 miles are all that separate a College Park student from Washington, D.C. The Washington monument is less than 10 miles away.

24 flavors of our own homemade ice cream, from our own home-grown cows, are available at the Campus Dairy in the Turner Building on Route 1 next to the Visitor Center.

25 locations on campus provide 446 PCs, plus CAD terminals and other computer-driven tools for study or research.

35 miles separate the College Park student from Baltimore and the Inner Harbor, one of the great riverfronts in the world.

78 RPM (rubs per minute) is the record high for one of College Park's oldest traditions. It happens during exams, and before football games, when hopeful students give Testudo and his Byrd Stadium twin rubs for good luck.

117 undergraduate majors are available at College Park.

186 stately columns grace the Georgian architecture of our major buildings, among them 35 residence halls providing rooms, suites, or apartments for 8,000 campus residents.

325 classrooms and laboratories set the stage for learning; courses in 117 different major fields of study offer choices and specializations for every interest.

586 student-athletes participate at the NCAA level at College Park.

$591 million was the University's operating budget in 1992-93; included was financial aid for some 21,639 students.

1589 acres of trees, malls, and quiet corners make this campus a beautiful retreat and a self-contained city. With 300 buildings, four theaters, nine restaurants, banks, shops and recreation facilities, the College Park campus is a lively and cosmopolitan community.

8,521 graduate students attended Maryland in 1992-1993.

21,799 undergraduates attended Maryland in 1992-93. Undergraduate enrollment was reduced 20% over the past five years to allow College Park to fill its role as the flagship University of the State of Maryland.

3,000,000 books, journals and magazines support students and research in College Park's library system.

4,600,000 items are on microfilm format in the campus libraries.
